—While in a friendly scuffle at a threshing at Alex. Neely's place near Stewart Run last Wednesday, Ruben, a young son of A. J. Handy, had the misfortune to get his leg in a twist and had a bone just above the ankle fractured. Dr. Gregg attended him and the lad is expected to get along without much difficulty.

—Bears are still traveling. Miss Marian Carey, who lives with her aunt, Mrs. L. G. Cooper, on the Reck-Cooper lease, Cropp Hill, saw a big bear near that place Wednesday evening. Jon Barnes of Church Hill saw a mother bear and three cubs within a half mile of his home Monday afternoon. He hurried home for a gun but when he returned the bears had disappeared.

—Charles H. Dale, aged 88, and for sixty-five years a resident of Franklin, died at his home in that city Friday. Most of his life was devoted to educational work. He was Venango county's second school superintendent, holding that position for four successive terms, or twelve years in all. That was back in the sixties, when there was a number of people living who, as young pupils, remember his kindly visits to the schools of this vicinity.

—One day last week a valuable horse belonging to N. R. Emert of Hunter Run, got loose in the barn and was kicked by another horse on the left shoulder making an ugly wound, but a veterinarian who attended the animal says the horse will get well if given the right kind of care.

—Postmaster Jamieson caught a fall grown pheasant on the M. E. church lawn Monday morning. It showed signs of having been injured and the tender-hearted P. M. tried to keep it alive, but the bird expired a few hours after being captured. An examination revealed a single shot mark in the breast.

—The first quarterly meeting of the Lickingville mission of the Evangelical Association for the conference year will be conducted in the church on Church Hill, Oct. 25th and 26th, by Rev. J. W. Richards, P. E. Preaching Saturday at 7:30 p. m., Communion Sabbath at 10:30 a. m., and preaching at 7:30 p. m.

—At a pie social recently held at the Beaver Valley school house for the purpose of obtaining library books, etc. for the school, the sum of $29.15 was realized. The ladies in attendance were few owing to the bad weather, therefore the pies were scarce, but not the young men with their pocket books. One pie was sold for $9.25 to Mr. George Tait of Endeavor, Pa.

—Prof. F. W. Gill of Tidouata has purchased the cottage of J. D. Fries at the mouth of Little Hickory creek, and will make it his summering place. The amiable professor finds that lots of outdoor and rustic living is the best medicine he can take, and he purposes having his own domicile, "vine and fig tree," where, after a hard winter's school work, he can exercise his muscles and work up an appetite for three square meals a day, and have a lot of fun while doing so.

—Hon. Alfred Short, for many years a prominent lumberman of Warren and Forest counties, died at his home in Tallahassee, Fla., on the 11th inst. Until about 15 years ago he had been a prominent banker of North East, Pa., and at one time was the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Erie-Warren district. He was at the head of the lumbering interests at Bracoville, Hickory township, when that lively town was in existence, thirty years ago. Mr. Short was born in Tioga county 66 years ago. His wife, two sons and a daughter survive.

—The Mercer Dispatch of a recent date has this interesting reference to a former popular Tionesta citizen whose many friends will wish him all sorts of good luck in his new home: A business transaction of importance was concluded Monday afternoon when George C. Welker & Son sold their drug store to Harry H. Craig, of Buffalo, who immediately took charge of the establishment. Mr. Craig, who is a graduate at the Pittsburg College of Pharmacy, until two months ago had been for almost four years engaged in the drug business in Tionesta. He is an experienced and capable pharmacist and a courteous gentleman and should succeed in his new location which is the oldest and one of the best in Northwestern Pennsylvania. His father, Mr. John Craig, who for almost a quarter of a century owned and conducted a drug store in Clintonville, is with him and will remain until he is well settled.

—Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 15, 1913, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith, Warren, Pa., former residents of Tionesta, their daughter, Miss Justine Irene, was united in marriage with Dr. James J. Robb, Rev. J. W. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. They will reside in Hamilton, Ont., where Dr. Robb will open an office as an eye, ear and throat specialist, in which profession he has recently completed a post graduate course. His previous practice has extended over a term of four years, three of which were spent as a physician in the Warren State Hospital. Miss Smith first met her fiancé at this institution where she has acted as stenographer to the superintendent for over six years. Her success as a McKee shorthand operator, reflects great credit to the system and her instructor in same, Miss Gertrude Deible, of Warren Business College. Her record as a stenographer, covering accuracy, speed and general efficiency, has never been duplicated in Warren County.

—The recital recently given in the Presbyterian church by the school of music and expression was one of the most pleasing and enjoyable entertainments given in the city in a long time. The attendance was large and the applause was heartily given because all of the numbers were rendered with grace, skill and spirit of enthusiasm that inspired the audience. On this occasion the fine, new Kimball concert grand piano was used for the first time. It is one of the sweetest and best toned instruments ever heard in the city and the College was fortunate to get it at such a bargain. The first number was a piano solo entitled "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" by Franz Liszt, who realizing that she had an instrument that would respond, played as never before. Her technique brought forth much favorable comment and her expression and interpretation were most pleasing. Mrs. Hart is an artist of rare ability and temperament. Her numbers that especially pleased the delicate ears of the audience were Necturus No. 12 by Chopin and the Faust Waltz—Silver State, Oct. 21, Deer Lodge, Montana.

"Danny" is a Forest county boy, being a son of the late James Huddleson, and was born while his parents lived on a farm on Hunter Run. Leaving here when a mere lad he grew to stalwart manhood and was one of the first to enlist in the Spanish war and went through the campaign in the Philippines.

Married.
DALE-SMEDLEY.
October 8th, 1913, in Fairfield, California, Dale Smedley, by the Rev. Clement H. Esterbrook of the Methodist Episcopal Church; Alexander H. Dale and Daisy Lee Smedley. At home, 227 Fourteenth street, Richmond, California, after October 15th, 1913.

The above very pleasant and interesting announcement comes to Alex's many Tionesta friends with a suddenness that amounts almost to a shock, for a whole lot of us had about arrived at the conclusion that he was immune from such hazards (?) But you never can tell; when a fellow "goes west" he's apt to go the limit. Nevertheless, a thousand good wishes to you and your better half, Alex, and may you always be happy and continue to prosper abundantly.

KEPPEL-DEWOODY.
Walter J. Keppel, of Corry, Pa., and Miss Nellie E. DeWoody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. DeWoody, of Nebraska, Pa., were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage, Linesville, Pa., Wednesday, October 15, 1913, Rev. W. O. Calhoun officiating. The young couple will make their home in Corry. The REPUBLICAN joins with their many friends in this community in wishing them all the joys and comforts of a happy married life.

OSGOOD-HUNTER.
Oscar S. Osgood and Miss Matilda F. Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Hunter, all of Endeavor, Pa., were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Osgood, parents of the bridegroom, Tuesday, October 14, 1913, Justice Jonathan Albaugh officiating at the ceremony.

New Gasoline Plant.
That the producers of this vicinity are awakening to the possibilities of manufacturing gasoline from natural gas, is evidenced by the fact that the South Penn Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard, is building a plant for the manufacture of this commodity at Henry's Mills on Tionesta Creek. The plant will have a capacity of reducing 250,000 feet of gas daily, which should yield, under normal conditions about 600 gallons of gasoline of high grade.

Captain J. J. Haight, of Cooper Tract already has a plant of 600 gallons capacity in operation and is making preparations to enlarge his output. After all expenses of reduction, the net profit on a gallon of this gasoline is about twelve cents and for years the owners of oil property have allowed this gas to escape from the wells, thus causing a loss, each day, from a 600 gallon plant, of $72.00, but it is not probable that there will be any more of this waste on leases owned or controlled by wide-awake producers.

Captain Haight drilled in a well on his lease on the Tionesta Creek, which was shot Friday and started off at a 20 barrel rate, but this will probably steady down into a five barrel producer. The Enterprise Fracise Company shot a well on the same day, in the same locality which started off at 30 barrels. This is the best well drilled in that territory in some time. There are now ten strings of tools operating in the vicinity of Henry's Mills and Cooper Tract and it is probable that this number will be added in on account of the good results obtained.

A Marvelous Escape.
"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all druggists. adv.

November Argument Court.
The regular November session of argument court was held last Thursday with President Judge W. D. Hinckley and Associate Judge J. M. Morgan in attendance.
In the equity case of Marion L. Gerow vs. John C. Fitzgerald and other heirs of Katherine Fitzgerald, deceased, the court ordered that the bill of complaint with a copy of order be served on defendants.
In the equity case of Mary R. Hepler vs. Orris Walters et al., on petition of J. F. Proper, owner of one-half of the timber on the land in question, A. C. Brown, master in partition, was ordered to sell land and timber separately.
On petition of citizens of Hoax township which runs from Blue Jay Station to Frost Station, in said township, to better accommodate the traveling public, the court appointed D. W. Clark, artist, and T. F. Riteney and J. T. Carson, viewfinders, to make report at the next term of court.
Widow's inventories and appraisements were confirmed n. s. as follows: Estate of Aaron Fenstermaker, late of Tionesta township, deceased; Estate of Joseph B. Pierce, late of Tionesta borough, deceased.
A motion of plaintiff for judgment was granted in the case of the Gold Standard National Bank of Marienville vs. W. L. Hoover, administrator of the estate of John Hoover, late of Jenks township, deceased.
In the ejectment case of George Emelen Hare vs. South Penn Oil Co., a rule was granted on the defendant to appear and plead to the writ of ejectment, which means that the company must bring suit for ejectment within a short time. The property in dispute is the undivided seven-tenths part of warrant No. 5102, 1167 acres, more or less, in Howe township.

After hearing evidence the court granted divorce decrees in the following cases: Viola Moor, libellant, vs. K. V. Moor, respondent; Bertha Aronson, libellant, vs. Axel Aronson, respondent.

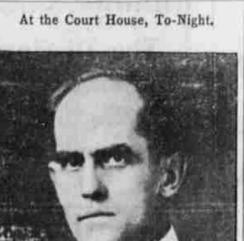

Death of Mrs. J. W. Morrow.
When the message came early Monday morning, October 20, 1913, that the earthly record of one of nature's noble women in the person of Mrs. Martha Uncepher Morrow had closed, it brought to us the blessed reality that a life, well rendered, had gone to be with God. For months this saintly woman had been sadly afflicted, physically, and while her passing away was considered merely the matter of a few months, at most, yet so quietly, peacefully and unexpectedly did she go, that it seemed almost in the twinkling of an eye, "God's finger touched her and she slept." But all who knew her realized that she still lived on, bright in the memory of those whose lives she touched, embalmed with love and garlanded with affection.

Since she came a bride to Tionesta as the wife of John Wilson Morrow, M. D., she has been well known throughout our community as a beautiful Christian character. In this new relation she assumed not only the duties of a good, true helpmeet, but the responsible position of mother to a family of six sons and daughters of her husband by a former marriage. And how nobly and well this work was done, not only her life, but the lives of those with whom she came in contact bear testimony. Coming as she did from a long line of noble Christian ancestry, she inherited those excellent traits which, under the divine touch, rendered her a useful member of society wherever she was called to be. She was a daughter of Philip and Mary Wilson Uncepher and was born at Saltsburg, Pa., August 2, 1835. When two years of age she removed with her parents to Crooked Creek, Indiana county, where more than fifty years were spent, highly honored, as indeed she was worthy of being. Sept. 8, 1857, she was united in marriage to Dr. Morrow of Tionesta, and at once took up her share of the responsibility of a family of children, ranging in age from childhood to young womanhood, none of whom she had ever seen before. It was here her light shone brightest and where her choicest record was made, although, because of her abilities she became identified with work of the church and the best interests of the community. In early life she united with the Associate Reformed, now United Presbyterian church, and later a member of the Presbyterian, where her influence for good was deeply felt. Always interested in the cause of missions, she kept in close touch with work of the W. F. M. S. as long as she was able. She was a valued member of the W. R. C. and the A. M. R. Also of the W. C. T. U., and was an earnest advocate of all that was "lovely, pure and good." Since the latter part of February she had been ill, and for the past half year her illness was such as to call forth the sympathy of her many friends, but when the summons came it found her ready, waiting, leaving as her near relatives four brothers and one sister: Joseph W. of Indiana, Pa., John B. of Plumville, A. Jackson of Eldred, David B. of Filer, Idaho, and Mrs. Margaret Miller of Odell, Neb. Also a grand-niece, Carrie E. Stuebel, wife of Louis L. Bourquin of Thomas, W. Va., whom she brought up as a daughter from infancy. She also leaves five step-children—the Misses Martha, Nancy and Sarah Morrow of Tidouata, Pa.; William G. Morrow, M. D., of West Hickory, and James Duff Morrow of McKeesport, Pa.

Impressive funeral services were held at her late home in Tidouata this morning by her pastor, Rev. S. F. Marks, and the remains will be brought to Tionesta on the 11 o'clock train for interment in Riverside cemetery, beside those of her husband.

Timber For Sale.
All the white oak and pine timber on the farm of the late Christian Korb, in Tionesta township, will be sold to the highest bidder, bids to be opened Nov. 15, 1913. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.
If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain opium, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. County Institute in Session.
The forty-seventh annual session of the Forest County Teachers' Institute was called to order at 1:30 p. m. Monday, by the County Supt., J. O. Carson. The enrollment of the first session showed an attendance of eighty-nine teachers out of a total of ninety-six. Prof. I. D. Gresh of Milton, Pa., is in charge of the music. Prof. Gresh has led the musical institutes in over half the counties in the state and the manner in which he does his work has been an inspiration to the teachers from the very start.

The first speaker introduced was Supt. A. S. Martin of Norristown, Pa., who gave a splendid address on the subject of Vision and Prevision. The thought which was prominent in his address was a clear conception of conditions that exist at a particular crisis, tempered with good judgment and reason whereby the outcome may be foretold with a certain degree of accuracy.
The second speaker was Dr. J. G. Carter Troop, of Toronto, Canada, who talked on the subject of Literature as a Culture Study. Dr. Troop emphasized the fact that literature developed the power of the emotions, enlarged the imagination, enhanced the taste for the beautiful. That literature was not simply good taste and being able to judge of the fitness or unfitness of particular things, but that it was a power as a social service from man to man. Education might exist or be developed without culture, a detriment to the educated.
The third speaker was Supt. L. E. McGinness of Steelton, Pa., who gave an excellent address on the "Real Purpose of the School." Supt. McGinness made clear the real purpose of the public school today and impressed the teachers with the fundamental ends and outcomes which every teacher should try to inculcate in the minds of the pupils.

The institute resumed its session on Tuesday at 9 a. m., and Supt. Martin was again introduced, who spoke on the subject of History, What and How. Supt. McGinness on Agencies within the School that secure the purpose of the school, and Dr. Troop gave a very popular lecture on Sir Walter Scott, which met with the hearty approval of the teachers.

The evening entertainments thus far consisted of a lecture on the Voice of Science by Miss Marie C. Brehm. Miss Brehm made clear the evil effects of alcohol on physical organisms from actual experiments on living animals and human beings. The facts and statistics so presented were extremely clear and accurate, with the conclusion that such are the conditions and effects produced by alcohol, and let each one be the judge of his own future actions. Miss Brehm was very well received and appreciated by a large and attentive audience.

The entertainment on Tuesday evening was the DeKoven Male Quartette in a program of popular songs and folk lore selections, the last part being a farce comedy. Mr. Ivan H. Blackman, manager and second tenor of the quartette, sang through the entire entertainment, even while painting a water color picture did he bring forth in "My Old Kentucky Home." The audience was highly delighted with the entertainment.

The forecast of the week is most favorable for a profitable and successful institute.
